Articles Feature
'Catfish' Wilmoth,
Chuck Hunsinger

GRID CHAT: I have here two stories about two Harrisburg football players, Chuck Hunsinger of the Montreal Alouettes pro team and Fred "Catfish" Wilmoth of the University of Illinois.

It doesn't matter which one we delve into first, but since John Richard Small is standing here beside me reading the Hunsinger story, I'll start with what we have about young Catfish.

Wilmoth, 272-pound sophomore tackle, who played exactly one-half of the Illinois-Minnesota game last Saturday, was featured in the Champaign-Urbana Courier on the Thursday before the contest.

There were two good-sized pictures of Freddie. One showed him holding the football pants Les Bingaman wore when an Illinois and said: "Illinois' biggest football player since Les Bingaman went his way in 1948 is Fred (Catfish) Wilmoth, Harrisburg sophomore who beams 272. Above he examines a pair of Bingaman's game pants and finds they're too big for him. Bing weighed around 310 when he was a collegian, now goes 350 for the Detroit Lions."

The other picture shows some of Wilmoth's physique with Bobby Graeff of Murphysboro, another player, looking on.

In Bert Brin's sports column adjoining the pictures, the people up there are told that Catfish is really "Little Cat" because "Catfish" is his pop, who is 6-2 and weighs 215, a whale of a football player in the twenties.

The column told of "Big Cat's" prowess on the gridiron and track and of "Little Cat's" ability as a center in high school where he was on the Southaven all-star basketball team his senior year.

It also points out that one of the few highlights of the Ohio State game for Illinois fans came just before the half when Wilmoth did a jackknife dive over the Buckeye line to pin Quarterback Lave Leggett to the ground.

IN A WEEKLY CANADIAN sports magazine, Canadian Football News, for Oct. 9, is an article titled: "Touchdown Terror: Chuck Hunsinger—Of Hopalong Rides Again! He Appears As a Cowboy on TV When Not Playing Football."

And there's a huge picture of him in action with the heading "It's a shot from Harrisburg."

This article tells of his appearance as "Big Chuck" on WSL-TV last summer. Yep, they're calling him Hopalong now. The article says:

"Hunsinger likes working in Harrisburg, which might be explained by the fact it is the town in which he was born and brought up. Now 29, Hopalong figures that he still has a few good years left in him yet but when he does decide that it is time to hang up his cleats he will devote full time to dairy work. He's always been interested in the dairy business. He graduated from the University of Florida in 1950 with a degree in agriculture and major in dairy husbandry.

His greatest thrill in football, Hunsinger told the writer of the article, was during his senior year at Harrisburg Township high school when he took a kickoff and romped the entire length of the field.

His biggest thrill in Canadian football was last year when he made four touchdowns against the Ottawa Rough Riders.

But this year Chuck (pardon me) Hopalong is having his best year in pro ball and some bigger thrills may turn up. He's right near the top in rushing, having a 6.3 yards per try a couple of weeks ago.

Chuck, the article points out, has a job with the LaSalle Engineering Co. while playing and likes Montreal "but not quite as much as Harrisburg, which is understandable."

Sentenced for Draft Dodging

CHICAGO — Michaelangelo Alonzi, Rockford, a member of the Jehovah's Witnesses religious sect, was sentenced Tuesday to two years in federal prison for draft dodging.

Alonzi, 21, told U. S. District Judge Win G. Knoch that he was an ordained minister and therefore exempt from military service.

Knoch told Alonzi that all citizens of the country must "bear the duties, obligations and responsibilities of citizenship."

Dulles Seeks to Prevent Hitch
In Saar TalksSecretary Concerned
With Reports of French Ultimatum

PARIS — U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles arrived today. He plunged at once into the task of preventing a new hitch from developing in the delicate negotiations for German rearmament.

He was particularly concerned with reports that French Premier Pierre Mendes-France had given West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer a virtual ultimatum to meet French demands on the coal-rich Saar borderland.

Authoritative sources said Mendes-France warned he will not sign the texts of the various agreements restoring German sovereignty and providing for controlled German rearmament until he has "satisfactory guarantees" that the French Saarland conditions will be met.

Previously the French premier had said only that he would not present the German agreements to the French National Assembly until he had received the "package Saar deal."

Official German spokesmen insisted that Mendes-France had delivered no formal ultimatum on Adenauer but said he "might have mentioned" his attitude at their dinner Tuesday night.

They remained optimistic, they said, that an accord on the coal and steel rich Saar will be reached by this week-end.

The Saar, a borderland which annually produces 16 million tons of coal and 2,700,000 tons of steel, has been the main issue obstructing French approval of rearmament of the Germans. It was expected to remain independent of both nations.

The Saar understanding calls for supervision of the territory by the new West European Union, abolition of the bans against pro-German political parties, maintenance of the Franco-Saar customs and labeling the accord "provisional" until a German peace treaty is signed.

Dulles had an afternoon appointment with Mendes-France, Adenauer and Britain's Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

Parents of Youth
Ask Damages from Tavern Owners

Parents of a 22-year-old youth seek $2,000 each from a group of West City, Ill., tavern owners on charges that they were responsible for acts which caused the son to be incarcerated at the state farm at Joliet.

Plaintiffs are Millard and Bertha Carlisle, who seek $2,000 each from Bill Viernum, doing business at Sunset tavern; Ardell Viernum, doing business as Neighborhood tavern; and Ralph Davis and Roy Loman, doing business as West Side tavern, all of West City.

The complaint was filed by Atty. Lester H. Lightfoot under the provisions of the Illinois Dram Shop act. It contends their son, Samuel Louis Carlisle, obtained intoxicants at the taverns on Sept. 12, which he drank and became intoxicated.

As a result, the complaint says, he was sentenced to one year term at Joliet for driving while intoxicated and maliciously destroying five mattresses and two pillows at the Saline county jail. The complaint asks the judgment on grounds that the parents were deprived of support due to his incarceration.

Gallatin River Bottom
Farmers Gather Corn
Before Land Floods

Gallatin county farmers with crops in the river bottom lands along the Ohio were hurrying this week to gather in their corn before the anticipated crest reaches that area sometime Monday.

Forecasters predict the river will crest around 27.5 feet in the Shawneetown area about Oct. 25. If this forecast follows true to form, lowland areas along the river in Gallatin county are expected to flood to varying degrees.

Farmers in the higher regions north of the river moved numerous pieces of equipment into the lowland areas early this week to give their neighbors a hand in gathering the crop prior to the crest.

East Berlin Agitators
Try Unsuccessfully to Hold
Sen. Margaret Chase Smith

BERLIN — A group of Communist agitators tried unsuccessfully to detain Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) today when she toured East Berlin.

Three members of Mrs. Smith's party and a driver were seized by Red "activists" and turned over to police who released them three hours later.

The group of East German citizens became aroused when Columbia Broadcasting System camera man took photos of the lady senator outside a government-run store on busy Alexander Platz in East Berlin.

East Germans who have been propagandized about "American spies" began protesting over the picture-taking. They tried to hold Mrs. Smith along with the rest of her party until police came.

Mrs. Smith, who is in Berlin en route to Moscow for a visit, said afterward:

British Dock
Strike Spreads
To More PortsGov't Prepares
To Send Troops
To Waterfront

LONDON — Britain's crippling Communist-supported dock strike spread to two more ports today and the government prepared to send 20,000 troops to the waterfront to save the nation's food supplies.

Thousands of dockworkers refused to sign on for work today at busy Hull and at Southampton, terminus of the luxury trans-Atlantic liners from America.

This move came after Southampton dockers refused to sanction a strike at a mass meeting Tuesday.

London and Birkenhead were completely shut down and Liverpool, the second biggest port, was almost paralyzed.

The National Dock Labor Board estimated that more than 40,000 of the 76,000 waterfront workers in the country were out in the worst dock strike in a quarter of a century.

As the crushing walkouts spread, more than 210 million dollars' worth of goods, much of it perishable, lay piled up on the docks and in idle ships.

With Prime Minister Winston Churchill's Cabinet meeting to approve ministerial plans for emergency action this weekend unless the strike ends by Saturday, a threat to the health of the world's biggest city appeared in prospect.

When the stevedores struck in London, the Lightermen, Tugmen and Bargemen's Union later struck in sympathy. This left London without its major outlet for disposing of garbage—the port barges. Navy men will be assigned to move the refuse which is causing concern among health officials.

The Southern Area Parent-Teacher conference will be held Oct. 27 at Giant City park from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

The state board of managers of the I.C.P.T. has graciously granted the request of the Southern districts for a special conference which would inspire them to see the possibilities of what they can do in their own communities and to discuss their questions and difficulties.

Lunch will be served at the lodge dining room for $1.35. Reservations must be made with Mrs. Wendell Bramlet by Saturday, Oct. 23.

The Kiwanis club is sponsoring this show to help defray expenses of the summer baseball program and for other children's and youth activities supported by the club during the course of the year.

Birch is a master magician, in the Houdini class, and will present a two-hour show on the evening of Tuesday, Nov. 2, at 8 o'clock for children and adults. Another performance will be given at 3 p. m. at Bonnell gymnasium for school children at a special price.

Members of the club will be selling tickets to these shows during the next two weeks and are urging the public to help support the programs which have been so valuable to the youth of Harrisburg.

At last night's meeting Loy Barger, who was a delegate to the Illinois-Eastern Iowa district convention held recently at the Sheraton hotel in Chicago, gave a report of the convention which he attended accompanied by his wife.

District officers elected at the convention were Carl Sommer of the Englewood club in Chicago, new district governor; Wolfe Berling of the Cairo club, district treasurer, and Ray Owens of the Marion club new lieutenant governor of division 16.

Several of the members plan to attend a divisional ladies' night meeting tonight at Anna.

"I was under the impression that you could go back and forth freely in Berlin between East and West. I guess the Communists' interpretation of free travel is different from mine."

She got off easier than Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate who actually was held briefly by East Berlin police with tommyguns last year.

The police reacted then when members of his party took pictures of him standing in front of the ruins of Hitler's bomb shelter.

A Columbia Broadcasting System correspondent hustled Mrs. Smith into an automobile when Communists called the "peoples police" because they objected to the picture-taking.

"One of the activists (Communists) tried to hold back Mrs. Smith's automobile with his hand," Richard Hottelet, CBS's German correspondent, said.

"They shouted at us: 'Stay here, but we left,'" he said.

William C. Lewis, Mrs. Smith's administrative assistant, Robert Huttenloech, CBS sound technician from Washington, and Elmer Cox, U. S. High Commission public information office chief in West Berlin, were taken to Communist police headquarters by four uniformed police.

Mrs. Smith said she hardly realized what was happening until Hottelet hurried her into an automobile and said the Communists objected to the taking of the photographs.

FBI Arrests
10 Puerto Rican
Red LeadersHoover Says Roundup
Will Cripple
Communist Conspiracy

WASHINGTON — The FBI arrested 10 Puerto Rican Communist leaders today in a crippling blow at the Red apparatus that has actively supported Puerto Rico's violent Nationalist movement.

Nine of the arrests were made in Puerto Rico, and one in New York City.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the swift roundup "will cripple the Communist conspiracy in Puerto Rico since all of those arrested have held important positions in the Puerto Rican Communist Party."

Leaders of Puerto Rico's Nationalist Party—the extremist splinter group whose adherents shot up the House chamber earlier this year and tried to assassinate former President Truman in 1950—were rounded up several months ago.

Reds Support Agitation

Although no evidence has been found that the Puerto Rican Communists had a direct hand in plotting the two Nationalist attempts to murder American leaders, government sources said, the FBI has long been convinced that Puerto Rico's Reds were fanning the flames of Nationalist extremism and using the splinter group for its own purposes whenever possible.

Hoover commented today that the Puerto Rican Communists have backed the Nationalist agitation for independence for the island commonwealth and have otherwise "supported the Nationalist cause when it served the purpose of world communism to do so."

It was the 15th such roundup of top-level Reds since 1949 and brought to 128 the number of Communist leaders seized.

Like those previously arrested, the 10 Puerto Ricans were charged with violating the Smith Act by conspiring to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the government.

Debbie Reynolds Confirms She Will
Wed Eddie Fisher

HOLLYWOOD — Debbie Reynolds confirmed today — four days ahead of schedule — that she and singer Eddie Fisher are engaged and plan to be married next June.

The actress and the crooner, regarded by the younger generation as the most romantic Hollywood couple in years, had planned to announce their engagement Saturday morning when Fisher arrives from New York with a diamond ring.

But the secret leaked out Tuesday night when Eddie Cantor, who sponsored Fisher's career, issued invitations for a Saturday night cocktail party honoring Debbie and Eddie.

The pert actress and Cantor at first denied the event would celebrate her engagement, but at last Debbie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Reynolds, made a conventional engagement announcement.

The M-G-M star also had chatted freely about the prospective marriage for several months, although in the next breath she would deny they were engaged. She recently said she and Fisher planned a large family, would live in Hollywood and would not let their careers conflict.

Miss Reynolds, 22, and Fisher, 24, started dating early this year after Debbie turned him down several times "because I didn't know much about him."

It will be the first marriage for both. Miss Reynolds said she had not yet decided where the ceremony would be held.

Fail to Meet
Blood Quota

The Bloodmobile which was in Harrisburg yesterday from noon to 6 p. m. in the Elks building fell short of its 175-pint quota by 39 pints.

The biggest reason for this deficit was the fact that about 100 persons who registered failed to show up. Two hundred and twelve were registered, but only 156 came through. Around 50 of these persons were not registered, but just "walk-ins." Twenty were rejected.

If the Bloodmobile had been able to count on those registered who did not keep their appointment, the quota would have been reached and exceeded.

Today the Bloodmobile is in Eldorado at the Methodist educational building from 12 noon to 6 p. m.

Chapman Criticizes Administration
'Give-Aways' in Address HereFormer Cabinet Member Speaks at Democratic Rally

The present Republican administration was labeled as a "give-away" administration by Oscar Chapman, former Secretary of the Interior, in an address at the Democratic rally at the court house Tuesday night.

"We hear much of the dynamic, progressive program of the Republican administration, but it is dynamic only in its eagerness to give away the natural resources of our country and progressive only in completing the programs started under the Democrats," the speaker declared.

Enlarging on the "give-away" phase, Mr. Chapman mentioned the awarding of offshore oil to a few coastal states, when, he said, all states should have shared in this oil.

His Contracts

He also stated contracts were being approved that could mean the destruction of the great forests of the northwest.

"Tests have been made many times in these forest areas and all indicate there are no metals, but contracts are now being approved with mining companies to go into these forest lands. The contracts allow for the cutting away of the trees. This is now being referred to as a new type of mining, 'the mining of trees,'" Mr. Chapman said.

The Dixon-Yates power contract also came in for discussion and was held up as an example of the

"The government proposes to enter into a contract with Dixon-Yates, a huge power combine that will cost the taxpayer $20,000,000 yearly, that guarantees the company a 9 per cent return on its investment and guarantees there will be no losses to the company."

Says People Betrayed

"And this contract is to be made without competitive bidding. No competition was allowed. 'I say this is a betrayal of the American people... it is not in your best interest,' Mr. Chapman declared.

With reference to the "progressive" program of the Republican administration, it was stated that the only progressive legislation was legislation to further social security, unemployment benefits and similar programs commenced by

Distribution of surplus commodities to unemployed miners in Harrisburg township was started at 10 a. m. today and in a half hour time parcels of food had been given to 134 registrants.

The unemployed miners previously had registered at the township relief office of which Virgil Ferrell is the township supervisor and received the commodities upon presentation of their cards to a truck parked in front of a building at 512 North Jackson street.

The truck was to remain here until noon today, then move over to Eldorado for distribution during the afternoon.

This program of giving surplus food items to unemployed miners in Saline, Williamson, Hardin, Franklin and Perry counties began yesterday with distribution at Johnston City. The truck was in Harrisburg and Eldorado today and will be in Franklin and Hardin counties tomorrow. Next week, a representative of the Illinois Public Aid commission said, the truck will be at Carrier Mills but he could not give the definite date.

He said that a complete itinerary is now being worked out and will be available to the public in a few days.

Supervisor Ferrell said that the commodities next month will be distributed from the building at 512 North Jackson street on Nov. 8 and 9.

The IPAC representative said that next month these commodities will be available to all persons on the IPAC rolls, such as Aid to Dependent Children, Old Age Assistance, Blind and Disability and General Assistance. These persons need not register, he said, adding that they would receive their cards through the mail which will entitle them to the commodities.

Supervisor Ferrell said that the unemployed miners will receive new cards through the mail for the foods next month.

Charged With Taking U. S.
Defense SecretsWas Research
Analyst for National Security Agency

ALEXANDRIA, Va. — A federal grand jury today indicted ousted code expert Joseph Sidney Petersen Jr. on espionage charges of improperly taking defense secrets "with intent and reason to believe it would be used to the injury of the United States and to the advantage of a foreign nation."

Petersen was arraigned immediately and pleaded innocent to all of the charges.

The foreign nation, not mentioned by the grand jury, has been identified as the Netherlands.

The grand jury indicted the former $7,700-a-year research analyst for the hush-hush National Security Agency on three counts.

One count said he "knowingly and willfully used in a manner prejudicial to the safety and interest of the United States" secret information regarding the communications and intelligence activities of this and other governments.

Another count charged that the 40-year-old Petersen "did willfully and unlawfully conceal and remove" documents and papers entrusted to his care by the National Security Agency.

Five Witnesses Heard

Although the indictment did not say so, the government says Petersen improperly gave secret defense information to Col. J. A. Verkul, a representative of Holland. The indictment does not, however, charge that Petersen actually transmitted defense documents themselves to anyone.

The grand jury returned its indictment to Federal District Judge Albert V. Bryan after deliberating since Monday. It had heard testimony of five witnesses, including a top-level code expert. Petersen was fired from his job Oct. 9 and was arrested by the FBI Oct. 9.

The State Department disclosed late Tuesday that the foreign nation involved was the Netherlands. The Netherlands Embassy confirmed this but insisted that the Dutch personnel involved believed that Petersen's actions were "known and authorized" by his superiors.

It said American and Netherlands agencies began exchanging intelligence information during the war and had continued to do so for a number of years afterward.

The State Department said it has "no reason to question the good faith of the Netherlands government." But it said Petersen's actions were "completely unauthorized" and carried out "under his own personal responsibility" and "in violation of the laws of the United States."

Some of the nation's biggest political guns have been trained on the Illinois election for U. S. senator.

At least 10 political figures will have taken the stump in Illinois before this week is out.

They include:

DEMOCRATS: Former Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, 1952 presidential nominee, and his running mate, Alabama Sen. John P. Sparkman; former

GOP Goes to Colleges, Seeking First-Timers' Votes

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The Republicans are making a major pitch to "first voters," those young people who will be eligible to go to the polls for the first time in the upcoming congressional elections.

GOP experts believe that the estimated 5,000,000 men and women in this category could swing many borderline districts.

Tons of campaign literature and bales of instructions on how to corral first voters are daily going out of the offices of the young Republican National Federation, a part of the national committee.

It's being gobbled up and used efficiently by state and local young GOP groups around the country, committee spokesmen claim. A major goal is to get the young people to register, which they are doing in great numbers, it is reported.

THE BIGGEST PART OF this effort is directed at organizing Republican clubs in colleges. John Begg, a young Californian with a pleasant manner, a crew-cut and a taste for bright yellow button-down shirts and dark flannel suits, is touring the campuses around the country sparking the drive.

So far, he reports, 435 active college GOP clubs have been formed and queries are coming in from scores more daily on how clubs can be started.

The central campaign idea he's trying to sell the undergrads is the same one offered to the general voter. That is, to support the Republican congressional candidate so that Ike will have a majority in Congress and keep getting his programs made into law. In his travels so far Begg has found that these college kids are frankly critical of both parties. But he says he believes that their sentiments are basically with the Eisenhower program.

STUDENTS FROM THE FARM BELT, he says, are naturally interested in the new Ike farm program of flexible supports. "They believe that the country could not have gone along forever under the old system," he reports, "and they are willing to give this new idea a fair chance."

They're all interested in the country's foreign policy, he says, and amazingly well-informed about current developments. He claims that they are not concerned with the unemployment problem, voice no fears of a depression and do not appear interested in tax matters.

Universal military training is a program many of them are for because the draft threat exists for most of them, he has discovered. Surprisingly, he has found, the college kids are about equally divided on Ike's program to reduce the voting age to 18.

In 1952 Eisenhower campaign leaders disagreed about shooting at the first voter group. It was argued that the college students traditionally tended to be liberal, even a little left-wing, and would vote Democratic if they voted at all.

IT WAS ALSO SAID that most young voters had the Democratic-thinking habit because they had known no other administrations in power in Washington since they had been politically conscious.

But because Ike was personally interested in trying to reach this group an effort was made to sell them on the Republican Party.

The results in 1952 were startling. It is now claimed at GOP headquarters that an overwhelming number of first voters went for Ike and the Republicans in 1952. Somewhere along the line college student bodies had become conservative with a Republican inclination, they say.

It's this attitude, plus the continued personal popularity of Ike in this age group, which the young Republican group at the national committee are exploiting with all their might.

The young Democrats, on the other hand, are making only a fraction of the effort for first voters, which they made in 1952. They had a man doing Begg's job then, but the effort is by mail now. They would like to do more, they say, but they don't have the funds.

Eisenhower Seeks Ways to Improve CIA

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower's personal interest today assured fast action on new ways to improve the secret operations of the Central Intelligence Agency.

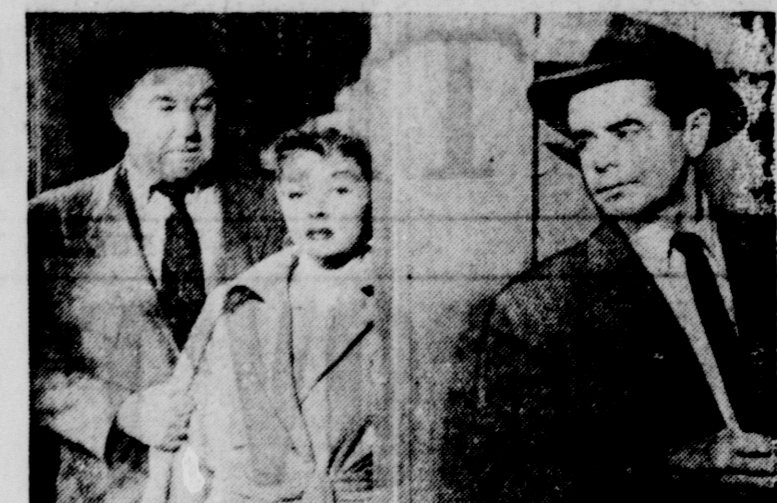

The nation's top-level intelligence agency gathers and evaluates secret information provided from free world and Iron Curtain sources. Its estimates of Russia's offensive capabilities and intentions are used to plan American foreign policies.

The White House announced Tuesday that a special presidential fact-finding board has recommended improvements in the organization, administration and operations of CIA. The board said the CIA is doing a "credible job" and "exercising care to insure the loyalty of its personnel." Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, pioneer airman, headed the board which handed the only copy of its report to the president.

White House sources said the Doolittle recommendations probably never will be made public because of the super-secret nature of CIA. A special statement said the CIA is aware of its "tremendous problems" and is taking steps to solve them "in many cases."

The careful wording of the statement suggested that the Doolittle board was far from pleased with the CIA's job. It forecast additional recommendations by a second investigating unit already probing CIA operations under the direction of Gen. Mark W. Clark, former U. S. Far East commander.

Allen W. Dulles, the CIA's director, did not comment on the Doolittle findings in a speech in New York Tuesday night. But he did

TO THE VOTERS OF SALINE COUNTY

WILLIAM T. "WEE" BARRETT

Democratic Candidate
For SHERIFF
of Saline County

The wet and dry issue is not being voted on in the General Election Nov. 2, 1954. It is not an issue, but some ministers of Saline County, and their congregations have been misinformed, intentionally or otherwise, regarding my stand on this issue, and on law enforcement. The Saline County Dry Association wrote my opponent, and myself, letters, during the Primary Election Campaign in the Spring. These letters wanted to know our stand on certain matters. For your information, I would like to submit my letter to you.

(COPY OF MY LETTER TO THE SALINE COUNTY DRY ASSOCIATION)

April 1, 1954

Mrs. Esther Gall
Saline Dry Association
114 South McKinley Avenue
Harrisburg, Illinois

Dear Mrs. Gall:

I have your letter of March 21, 1954, concerning my stand on law enforcement should I be elected Sheriff of Saline County.

In reply thereto, I wish to state that when a Sheriff takes his office, he is required under the constitution and law of the State of Illinois, to take the following oath:

"I do solemnly swear that I will support the constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Illinois, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of Sheriff according to the best of my ability."

Should I be elected Sheriff of this County, I will take the above oath and I will, to the best of my ability, comply with that oath.

I believe in good government, clean men in office, and men who are not controlled by any group or clique.

A Sheriff should be a Sheriff for all the people of his county and he should enforce the law, as far as he is able to do so, whether it be for rape, murder, robbery, larceny, or whether it be for violating the liquor law or violating the law with reference to the operating of slot machines, or whether it be for violating the law against gambling, or gambling devices.

I believe in prosecution, but I do not believe in persecution.

It is my belief that the best indication of what a candidate's intention would be, should he be elected to office, could best be gathered from his conduct and dealings in his past life. My life is an open book for you to inspect, and I will welcome any investigation of me, and my life that you care to make.

I hope that I have answered the things which you wanted me to answer.

Thank you for the interest which you are taking in the present campaign, and hoping you can find in my record such a life that will cause you to render aid and support to me.

I am,

Yours very truly,

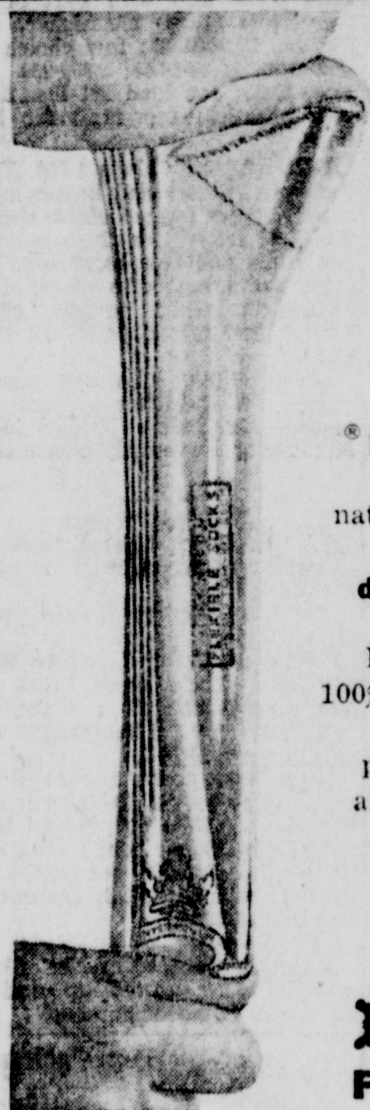

William T. "Wee" Barrett
Democratic Candidate for Sheriff.

If my letter states the type of Law Enforcement you want, I would like you to tell your friends, and use your vote and influence for me in the General Election on Nov. 2, 1954.

William T. "Wee" Barrett
Democratic Candidate for Sheriff of Saline County.

Mr. and Mrs. Clemis King of Phoenix, Ariz., former residents of Harrisburg who have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Reed, and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Saddle, returned home this morning. Mrs. L. O. Trigg of Eldorado accompanied them home for an extended visit.

Hard of Hearing Now Hear Clock Tick

A new device has been developed to give hope for the hard of hearing. Through the adoption of a new transistor tube, science now brings restored hearing to the deafened.

No more cumbersome batteries or battery cords needed. This new device weighs only a few ounces yet so powerful the hard of hearing may now hear whispers.

It is suggested if interested for yourself or a friend, write Toner-master Hearing Aid Company, Dept. A, 813 West Indiana Street, Evansville, Indiana, for full free information.

Educational, Religious Institutions Hold True Hope for Peace: Eisenhower

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—President Eisenhower said today that the educational and religious institutions of the present day hold the only true hope for steering the nations of the world away from a murderously destructive war in which there could be no winner.

Dwelling on a theme he employed in Washington Tuesday, the President told a Trinity College campus audience of more than 7,000 persons that modern methods of war presented no "possibility of victory or defeat — only a degree of destruction."

He said it was up to the educational and religious forces of the world to inculcate such understanding in their students and followers that the "scourge of war" is eliminated from modern society.

The President came to Trinity, a 131-year-old liberal arts college with a student body of 900, to receive an honorary doctor of laws degree as he started a two-day tour of two vitally important political areas — Connecticut, where Gov. John Lodge is running for reelection, and New York City.

Party For Lodge

Before leaving Hartford for New York, the President attended a mammoth, outdoor birthday party for Lodge, who celebrated his 51st birthday today.

The college citation said, in part: "Long shall Trinity men, Mr. President, remember the presence here, the words, the fellowship with our college of the President of the United States who, knowing that the foundation of the state is the education of its youth, has come into our midst, even as did his predecessor, Theodore Roosevelt, to break the bread of his wisdom with our youth."

"He has so lived and acted in the crises of our time that his deeds in the service of his country and of the world need no words of praise."

The citation went on to laud Mr. Eisenhower's World War II record, his "atoms for peace" proposal before the United Nations and his "tolerance, human understanding and fairness in handling every problem" as chief executive.

It was the President's first swing into the East since the 1954 campaign really got moving two months ago.

Although the trip is officially labeled "non-political," GOP state-ists are privately counting on it to give the party cause a big boost.

The honorary doctor of law degree was presented by Trinity College President Albert C. Jacobs, a personal friend of Mr. Eisenhower.

After the ceremony, he went to Bushnell Park, near the state capitol building, where he sliced a 400-pound, 6-foot cake at Lodge's birthday party.

His New York schedule called for an address at the American Jewish Tercentenary dinner tonight.

Thursday night the President will be the headline speaker at the Alfred E. Smith memorial dinner. Republicans hope that Mr. Eisenhower's speech may influence some of Al Smith's admirers to vote Republican.

The President will return to Washington early Friday morning.

Cruel Hoax Pulled On Boy Sent To Reformatory

MONROE, La. (AP)—Someone played a cruel hoax today on the family of little Joe Cooper, the boy who went to the reformatory for trying to save his dog from two school officials.

Mrs. Velma Cooper, Joe's mother, announced joyously that the morning mail had brought a letter and a $15 contribution from former President Harry Truman.

The letter was one to tough the heart of a 10-year-old boy who still is in the reformatory waiting for a decision in his case.

There was only one thing wrong — Mr. Truman didn't send it.

"First I've heard of it," the former chief executive said, when questioned at Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. Cooper, who didn't know people sometimes play practical jokes at the expense of others, saw the name Harry S. Truman on the envelope and called reporters with the news.

Inside the envelope was a message typed on a card: "Nice going, boy, thought you might like to see your name in print." With the card was a letter, calling on the child to muster up his courage.

The return address was: "Ex-President Harry S. Truman, F. F. Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa." Enclosed were a $10 and a $5 bill and a copy of a Philadelphia paper containing a story of little Joe's problem with teachers and his dog.

"It's a cruel thing to do," Mrs. Cooper said when advised the letter she received was not from Mr. Truman. "People have been so nice up to now."

Chapman Criticizes GOP 'Give-Aways'

the late Franklin D. Roosevelt and continued under the administration of Harry Truman.

Believing the people to be weary of the present administration with its "give-away" tactics, Mr. Chapman predicted the Democrats would have a majority in both the house and senate when the next session of congress starts.

He sees a national pattern in the results of the elections in Maine and Alaska, where Democratic candidates were elected to office. He was particularly interested in the Alaska results, declaring "for 40 years voting in Alaska has never been wrong in indicating the American voting pattern."

Representative Paul Powell of Vienna introduced Mr. Chapman, who came to Harrisburg directly from Chicago, flying to Evansville and being met there by Steve Mitchell, chairman of the Saline County Democratic committee. Mr. Chapman will remain in southern Illinois for another day or two.

County candidates were introduced by Attorney Bob Wilson of Eldorado. The candidates — Maynard Cannon for treasurer, Trafton Dennis for judge, William "Wee" Barrett for sheriff, Raymond "Pete" Gardner for superintendent of schools and Don Garrison for clerk.

Lulu Belle and Helen entertained with musical numbers throughout the program.

Other Democratic meetings scheduled include a potluck dinner Thursday at 6 p. m. at the party headquarters on West Poplar street, a speaking meeting at the Galatia grade school Oct. 25 and a big rally at Eldorado Saturday, Oct. 30. At the Eldorado meeting U. S. Senator Russell Long of Louisiana will be the speaker.

Carrier Mills Grade School Cage Team to Open Season Thursday Night

The Carrier Mills grade school basketball team, coached by Harry Yocum, will open its 1954-55 season Thursday, entertaining Carterville.

The Junior Wildcats, members of the Midget conference, will play a 15-game schedule, including ten league tilts.

This year the Midget conference has a new member—Broughton—increasing the membership to six schools. Others in the loop are Carrier Mills, Raleigh, Muddy, Galatia and Dorrisville.

All teams will complete their regular season before the final week of January, with the final week held open for the conference tourney, site to be decided at a later date.

Coach Yocum, in his second year at Carrier Mills, stated today he had been working with a squad of about 50 candidates, including players from the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades. However, the squad has been trimmed to 22 players, all from the two upper grades and from this list, he has selected a first ten as follows: Capt. Bill Nolen and John Noonan, forwards, and Jerry Randolph, center, starters; and Charles Reeder, James Elms, Jack Thomas, Herman Rice and Ronnie Shaw.

Alvin Dark Signs $35,000 Year Giants' Contract

NEW YORK — Alvin Dark, team captain and leading hitter of the New York Giants in the World Series, led his teammates into the fold today when he signed a two-year contract calling for an estimated $35,000 a year.

The contract is the second in succession which Dark has signed for two years and is believed to contain a raise of about $2,500 a year over the pact he had during 1953 and 1954.

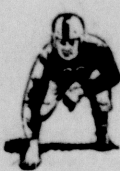

Eddie Brannick, the Giants' secretary, announced that Dark's signed contract had been received in the mail from Lake Charles, La. No terms were revealed but Brannick said, "He signed for two years so you can bet he was mighty satisfied."

Dark, 31-year-old native of Comanche, Okla., played in all the Giants' 154 games this year, batting .293, hit 20 homers and drove in 70 runs. In addition, he was recognized as the sparkling of the world champions' air-tight infield which outplayed the Indians' infield by a wide margin in the series.

Italian Premier Given Vote of Confidence

ROME — Italy's Chamber of Deputies approved Premier Mario Scelba's foreign policy early today in a marathon session that was interrupted at one point by fist fights.

Deputies gave Scelba a 295-265 vote of confidence on his acceptance of the London agreement to return West Germany and give the Germans sovereignty, as well as his compromise with Yugoslavia on the Trieste dispute.

Looking AT Sports

By BILL MELTON

The football season is just barely half over, but basketball is rapidly crowding into the local sports picture. Grade school basketball will be in full swing soon and high schools not playing the grid sport are looking forward to opening the cage schedule within a short time.

A few more nights like last Friday and I will be tempted to retire from the sports scene until basketball starts. While standing out Friday with the wind whipping a cold rain in my face, and smearing my notes until I wondered what was written, it came to me that basketball is a wonderful sport. It's played INSIDE.

ANSWERS TO THE SPORTING NEWS SPORTS QUIZ

1. Yankees. In addition to their shutout wins over the Pirates, Cardinals, Cubs (twice), Reds and Dodgers, they lost to the New York Giants in 1922—not in straight games, one ending in a tie.

2. Chuck Davey. The ring officials voted in favor of Andrews by a small margin.

3. Ed Reulbach, old-time Cub mound star. The date, September 26, 1908.

4. Jesse Terrill Hill, head coach of the University of Southern California played in the majors with the New York Yankees in 1935, Washington Senators, 1936 and part of 1937 when he was traded to the Philadelphia Athletics.

5. Ted Kluszewski, when with Indiana University. The Hoosiers won the Big Ten championship in 1945.

Luke Easter, who played first base for the Cleveland Indians, is about to retire from baseball and thinking seriously of taking up a pro ring career. Luke was once an amateur boxer, according to The Sporting News.

When the University of Illinois football team takes the field Saturday the members will have a double reason for wanting to win. In addition to trying to break a four-game losing streak and rack up victory number one for the year the players will also be trying to win for their dads. Saturday is Dad's Day on the Illini campus and advance ticket sales indicate a crowd of some 45,000 will be in Memorial Stadium at kickoff time. Syracuse is Illinois' opponent.

Kid Gavilan Favored to Retain Title in Bout With Johnny Saxton Tonight

PHILADELPHIA — Cuban Kid Gavilan, perhaps ring-rusty, will risk his welterweight crown for the eighth time tonight against New Yorker Johnny Saxton, a once-poor orphan who may be inspired by the promise of gold and glory and the threat of jail.

Speedy, slender Gavilan is still favored to win the nationally televised and broadcast 15-round bout at Convention Hall, but the uncertainty about his condition lowered the odds to 9-5. And the increasing support for the younger Johnny indicated the ringside price might be 7-5.

Gavilan's hand injury and later virus infection caused two postponements of this bout and kept him out of action nearly seven months. The 28-year-old bolo up-pereut specialist hasn't fought since April 2, when he failed to wrest the middleweight title from Bobo Olson.

Defended Last Nov. 13

The champion's last defense was 11 months ago, on Nov. 13, when he trounced Johnny Bratton. Paring down to the 147-pound limit now may have been a weakening ordeal, although Gavilan and trainer Mundito Medina denied it when they arrived Tuesday night from their camp at Summit, N. J.

Because of the uncertainty about the Cuban "Hawk," co-promoters Herman Taylor of Philadelphia and Jim Norris of New York expected a new indoor Philadelphia gate record of at least $80,000, paid by at least 11,000 fans. The present record of "about $70,000" was set by Bob Montgomery and Wesley Monzon in their lightweight title fight at Convention Hall, Nov. 26, 1946. The hall's capacity is 14,000.

Saxton, 24, has been training four months for this bout, originally slated for Connie Mack Stadium on July 14, then postponed to Sept. 1, and next shifted indoors for tonight.

Big Night For Saxton

This is the big night for the sturdy, broad-shouldered young Negro who spent his boyhood in the Riverdale Children's Association Orphanage in New York and his later youth with foster parents in Brooklyn. His successful leather tossing as a Golden Glove and as a professional since 1949 has been aimed at tonight's opportunity.

He is younger and stronger and more explosive than the champion. Although an upright boxer-puncher he has a crowding style that proved awkward to most opponents and nearly ruined the reputations of Johnny Bratton, Livio Minelli and Lester Felton. To increase the awkwardness, he plans to use brute-strength "bulling" tactics tonight.

Johnny wants to win the title

He believes the chief magistrate might suspend sentence on a world champion.

Warmath Puts Minnesota Back in Football Business

By HARRY GRAYSON

NEA Sports Editor
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Before the first shot was fired it was said that Murray Warmath was inheriting a Minnesota squad devoid of outstanding performers.

Paul Giel had played out his eligibility.

The 1953 freshmen were without standouts.

It was stressed that Warmath headed a new coaching regime unfamiliar with the personnel under fire and opponents.

For the first time in history there were no single wing plays in Minnesota's offense. Coach Warmath installed the split T. So Warmath wears 'em down with numbers, sticking to complete platoons going both ways. The second team comes in to get the first team off the hook.

"The second team got us all fired up when they marched to the first touchdown," said Capt. Bob McNamara, after Northwestern had been walloped, 26-7.

"We started to do some thinking while sitting on the bench. I knew we had to start moving or we'd do a lot of benchwarming."

"And what holes that (Bob) Hobart and (Mike) Falls (the tackles) opened up when the first club got back in."

"We're challenging the first team to see who can do the best job of moving the ball," said Quarterback Dale Quist, the converted tailback captaining the second team. "We think we can do just as good as they can."

SO THERE ARE TWO SIDES to the Minnesota story and Warmath wisely uses one against the other. It's an excellent idea when you have numbers, and the 41-year-old Tennessean was greeted by 22 lettersmen.

Minnesota ran much as it pleased over Pittsburgh in its most impressive performance. The Golden Gophers warmed up against Nebraska.

After three straight, the Illinois scouting report filed by end coach Bob King read something like this: "Rugged and versatile."

"Veteran team—in fact, it's two teams because Warmath alternates two lineups without any great loss of effectiveness. It was the second unit that broke Northwestern's back after it played the first team on even terms for a quarter."

King praised the offensive ability of the halfbacking McNamara brothers, Dick and Bob, felt that Minnesota had two highly capable quarterbacks in Geno Cappelletti and Quist. There's power at full back, with John Baumgartner and Frank Bachman about even in ability. Against Northwestern, Baumgartner went 84 yards in eight rushes, Bachman 55 in six.

FOOTBALL GAMES ARE won in the line and Warmath knows what to do with one, or in his present case, two. He played end and tackle at Tennessee, where he assisted Gen. Bob Neyland before succeeding Herman Hickman as Army's line coach under Col. Red Blaik.

So, you see, Minnesota's new head man has been well exposed to Grade A coaching. He came to Minnesota from Mississippi State. "Minnesota's line has experienced personnel, fine size and aggressiveness," read the Illinois report. The sleuth singled out Ends Jim Soltau, brother of the 49ers' Gordon, and Ron Smith; Tackle Gordon Holz; Guard Bob Hagemeister; and Center Charley Sam-schror.

"Opponents don't get much relief when Warmath substitutes at any position, either," he stressed. Minnesota hasn't been the Giants of the North since Bernie Bierman either lost his touch or ran out of material.

Regardless of what happens from here on in, Murray Warmath has put the Golden Gophers back on the golden trail.

Bull Pups-McLeansboro Foxes Play Tonight in Factory Fund Benefit

Tonight is the big night at Taylor Field for Harrisburg industrial fund and everybody who desires to take a part in contributing to this fund for the economic good of this community is urged to attend the benefit football game.

Sponsored by the Harrisburg Junior Chamber of Commerce, the driving force in getting Harrisburg on a sounder economic footing, there will be a football game between the McLeansboro team, coached by John VanderPlum, and the Bull Pups, coached by Jim McKee and Jess Nichols.

This is the first year since 1929 that McLeansboro has had football and because of this fact the Foxes are playing B-teams and frosh-soph outfits of other schools. Nearly all the boys on VanderPlum's squad are freshmen and sophomores with about four or five promising juniors retained.

It was doubtful yesterday whether or not McKee's first string quarterback, Jim Cummins, will be able to play tonight because of a small fracture of a bone in his hand which occurred a couple of weeks ago. Not knowing of the fracture Cummins played last week and when the hand got no better it was x-rayed, then put into a cast.

The McLeansboro coach, John VanderPlum, is having surprising success this year considering the fact that none of his boys had ever played football, some of them never having seen a game. He has welded together an outfit that picked up quickly on what the game is about and has gone out and won every game except one.

VanderPlum was a standout halfback on the championship Bull Dog team of 1948 and starred also at Southern Illinois university, where he was voted most valuable player his senior year.

The Bull Dogs are a scrappy outfit and may be augmented tonight by four or five juniors who have not been seeing action in the varsity games.

A huge crowd has been following the McLeansboro team and it is expected to be even larger for this game with Harrisburg, which will start at 7:30 p. m.

Ticket sales have been moving here and persons who have not bought them yet may secure them at the gate tonight.

The officials for tonight's game are donating their services. At regular encounters they get $15 each for calling the game and this will amount to a sizeable donation to the factory fund.

The high school also is donating its facilities for the game.

Republicans Begin Big Push For Election; Democrats Campaign with 'Old Pros'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans yanked the stops from their congressional campaign today in what appeared to be their "big push" to hang onto control of Congress in the crucial Nov. 2 election.

These were straws in the political winds that seemed to point up a new phase in GOP strategy.

President Eisenhower, in whose popularity many Republicans think lies the key to an election victory, took off for Connecticut and New York on a two-day speaking tour that carried him into the strategic East for the first time in the campaign.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon announced he was peeling off his gloves and then proceeded to hammer former President Truman in a stinging attack.

GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall termed the Democratic party an "instrument for the left-wing crowd."

Ives Charges Bribery
Sen. Irving M. Ives, Republican gubernatorial candidate in key New York, hurled a sensational bribery charge at his Democratic foe, Averell Harriman.

Say Reds Seek to Infiltrate Parties

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two former Communists have testified the Communist party is trying to infiltrate the Republican and Democratic parties and is supporting candidates favorable to the Communist program.

Matthew Cvetie, former FBI undercover agent, and John Lautner, former Communist functionary, told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee the Communists turned to the two major parties after the Progressive party's flop in 1948.

Cvetie and Lautner testified at a secret one-man hearing held Oct. 7 by Sen. Herman Welker (R-Idaho). Their testimony was made public Tuesday.

The two witnesses were asked particularly about the activities of former Vice President Henry A. Wallace and former Sen. Glenn H. Taylor (D-Idaho) as Progressive party candidates for president and vice president in 1948.

Taylor now is running on the Democratic ticket for the U. S. Senate seat from Idaho held by Republican Henry C. Dworshak.

Cvetie said the Progressive party was controlled by the Communists and that Wallace and Taylor sought and accepted Communist support.

Both Cvetie and Lautner emphasized they did not think either Wallace or Taylor were Communists. But Lautner testified: "I am positive that both national candidates knew that they were fostering and advancing the cause of the Communist party in this country."

Stratton Predicts GOP Victory, Blue Ballot Approval

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton sat on a limb today with a prediction Illinois voters will elect the Republican ticket by 250,000 votes and approve the Blue Ballot remap plan Nov. 2.

Stratton issued his forecasts in a fighting talk at a campaign strategy meeting of GOP county chairmen Tuesday and called upon his listeners to work hard to make them come true.

He told the assembly that if senatorial candidate Joseph T. Meek and the rest of the GOP ticket fail to get that margin, "then I don't deserve to be governor and you shouldn't expect to be county chairmen."

Stratton vigorously urged support of the constitutional amendment to redistrict the Legislature, and attacked Meek's Democratic election foe, Sen. Paul H. Douglas.

Stratton acknowledged that some downstate chairmen in the group weren't working for reapportionment, which would give Cook County slim control of one house of the Legislature.
